You don't create a sense of place.

It's already
there.

Things always have a
beginning,
middle and end.

In Oakland,
we get stuck in the middle.

You just don't know
who
you can talk to about it.

LOCAL 'BARNUM':

Klinkner Death

Recalls Live

Sygone Days

Colorful days of Oakland's
 eer history were recalled
 with an announcement of death of Charles Klinkner, 73, a member of one of the city's oldest families.

The name Klinkner and Klinkner are immediate family

They buried him quickly in the sand by the sea
 —sighed a prayer, wept a tear—
 and were back home by three.

A cross of gray driftwood marked Oyster Boy's grave.
 Words writ in the sand
 promised Jesus would save.

But his memory was lost with one high-tide wave.

No answer is ever "complete."

How do you affect change?

How does change affect you?
